CASE NECK DIPPER

Case Neck Cleaner & Lubricator

The Case Neck Dipper is a valuable accessory for the reloader processing bottle-neck cartridge cases. The tendency for those cases to “flow” and thicken in the neck and shoulder – at the expense of the cartridge base wall thickness – is well known.

This shifting – or stretching – is to some degree due to the use of an expander ball (integral with the decapping rod/pin on standard two-die rifle die sets) in uncleaned case necks. Friction between the expander ball and case neck is greatly increased, contributing to neck stretching and requiring more effort from the reloader.

The Case Neck Dipper allows the reloader to brush clean the case neck interiors and, if he wishes, also apply a clean dry lubricant to further ease passage of the resizing die’s expander ball.

The Case Neck Dipper Base is fixtured for two mounting screws and includes a snug brush and reservoir cover, three nylon brushes and a vial of clean dry lubricant (Motor Mica).
